

Perma Glass of Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind.

Even though the homeowners' backyard sits on a lake, they wanted a heated swimming pool to spice it up and extend the swimming season.

Attention to detail is evidenced by the inlaid mosaic-tiled dolphins on the pool's floor. Perimeter tile along the pool walls matches the dolphin pattern. Also, built-in steps and seats in each of the pool's corners are highlighted by electric-blue inlaid tiles.

At night, the 40-by-16-foot pool, with depths of 3 feet, 6 inches to 8 feet, comes alive thanks to fiber-optic lighting. It's an ideal place for pool parties or quiet moments with the still lake in the background.

A diving board in the pool's deep end allows for activities other than swimming. ▼
